

Genevieve de Lacaze

International Coach, Speaker & Broadcaster

“Genevieve creates Awareness, provokes Thought, inspires Action, provides Knowledge and transfers Skills”

"Genevieve helped me to feel clear about where I was and what I needed to do, one step at a time." –
Bebhinn O’Loingsigh

"Using the techniques Gen taught me, I have managed to improve so many aspects of my life"-
Vanesa Perez

"With Gen, I understood the difference between my abilities and my perception of them. It played a big part in changing my job." –
Sorin Dimitru

"Thank you Genevieve, thank you. After listening carefully to what you said in the Business for Coaches teleclass, I realise what my niche is, finally. You are doing a great job with what you share with people, you really have the power to impact those who are open and want to find their niche. You are an expert in helping them to find it!"

SHORT BIO

Genevieve helps people understand their passions and translate them into meaningful work. She also helps organisations refocus on their core purpose and align it with its individuals’ own passions and values. With a strong interest and background on personal power for societal change, Genevieve has written articles, delivered presentations and workshops on many empowering subjects in Europe, USA and Central America. She speaks fluent French, English, Spanish and basic German. Her upcoming book Passion Pays analyses and educates on how the world of work is changing, featuring 30 inspirational people.

Genevieve’s style - Genevieve's natural wit, energy and wisdom make her presentations thought-provoking, entertaining and motivating. Genevieve draws from her diverse background and ideas and from real-world experiences to relate key principles and strategies, while enriching her content with illustrations, stories and humour. The audience members are left with learnings, insights and pointers that they can apply straightaway to their own life for greater results.
